Honor the Future: Campaign for the University of Virginia In January 1819, the Commonwealth of the General Assembly of Virginia rented what would become the University of Virginia. For two hundred years, the university served Virginia, the nation and the world educating citizens' leaders; By advancing, preserving and spreading knowledge; and provide assistance to the world class patient. These responsibilities are lasting and will continue to inspire our efforts. During this story, this strategic plan offers a roadmap for the future of the UVA as it enters its third century. The plan was developed through an inclusive process, led by a management committee, which reflected input across the broader university community. The plan begins with our mission and our values, which were formally adopted in their current articulation in 2013. You switch to a vision statement, a set of goals and a smaller set of key initiatives. Finally, he describes the work to do while moving from planning to execution. The connection between these pieces is simple. Our goal is to be the best public university in 2030, and one of the best in the world, both public and private. We believe that the way to achieve this is great and good, as described in the statement of vision. The objectives described in this document constitute our concrete definition of what we mean for a great and good university. The initiatives represent some of the efforts we will make to achieve our objectives. The last point is essential to keep in mind: initiatives do not represent the total sum of everything we are or will do to achieve the objectives. There are numerous activities, programmes, efforts and initiatives already underway through land and within schools and departments that are relevant to the objectives. Key initiatives are limited to new major university efforts. In order for this strategic plan to lead our actions, the initiatives must be limited to a number that can be financed in a plausible and implemented way in the next eight-ten years. Our schools will pursue their own individual plans. These plans will be consistent with our general goals, but they will build on the unique strengths and promote the distinctive missions of schools. Segilare, our university health system is fundamental to the University and its mission. As an integral part of the University, many of the following goals apply to the healthcare system, just as they apply to all schools, including recruitment and support of students, teachers and exceptional staff; Enable the search for breakage of the path that improves life; create an inclusive community of trust; And being a strong partnera good neighbor to Charlottesville. At the same time, the health system is sufficiently large and complex that will develop its strategic plan that will build on these objectives and include the others necessary for its success. The essay college is also fundamental to our ability to serveCommonwealth in general. This country also presents unique opportunities and challenges. We will work with Wise leaders to develop a strategic plan that defines Wise's mission and role within the Commonwealth University and higher education system. We will therefore join the leadership of Wise and the Healthcare System to help them achieve their respective missions and implement their strategic plans, consistent with the overall objectives of the University's strategic plan.This means that this document is not meant to be a catalogue of everything we are doing. Also, it doesn't have to be a catalogue of all the important things we're doing. This is a big and important work that does not fit into a new key initiative, but it is still vital for the University and fundamental to the achievement of our goals.With these reflections, we hope you will be enthusiastic and inspired by the following. House Bill 1993 and ONE Virginia Plan position the state as a national leader in building a national strategy to promote ED&I in our services, systems and operations.
