It turns out that all the main browsers agree in several shortcuts that can reduce the code, and the HTML5 specification now allows these direct accesses to be used in a vian code. The required by HTML5 documents is much shorter than those who came before: Like all these shortcuts, this code has been specifically designed for "fool browsers" (which has not admitted HTML5) to treat the document as a complete blood HTML4 document. If it includes the Katex.js directly, the Katex object will be available as a global variable. Then park with bundlers as webpack or rollp.js. Use the source load API loader or source source: Window.webfontconfig = {custom: {families: ['Katex_ams', 'Katex_Caligraphic: N4, N7', 'Katex_fraktur: N4, N7', 'Katex_Main: N4, N7, I4, I7', 'Katex_Math: I4, I7', 'Katex_Script', 'Katex_sansserif: N4, N7, I4', 'Katex_size1', 'Katex_size2', 'Katex_size3', 'Katex_size4', 'Katex_typewritriet', '],}},},}; ecmascript module import katex from '0.15.3/dist/katex.mjs'; ... This label should specify the main language for the contents of the document, with the LANG attribute: Next comes the label, which starts the document header: The first bit in the heading it must be a Read below to obtain a complete description of each line of this minimum document. Do you have any questions about HTML5? Download and host things yourself download a Katex version, Copye Katex.js, Katex.CSS (or Katex.min.js and Katex.min.css to use minified versions), and the directory of Fuentes, and include or import it as the above. Members get instant access to all Sitepoint electronic books and interactive courses in line, such as HTML5 and CSS3 for the real world. Keep in mind that only a few browsers admit it and everyone admits Woff2, so preload Woff2 sources is enough. Use the nomodule attribute to provide a setback for older navigators who do not admit módulos is. That does almost. The shortcuts such as those presented above are not characteristic of a new standard, but more efficient use of the HTML ANALISTIC CHARACTERISTICS that have already been integrated into browsers during years. See Google's web foundations: Web source optimization to obtain more details. If you liked it, some of the shortcuts presented here make you feel a little unbelief at first glance. < net/npm/katex@0.15.3/dist/katex.min.js "integridad =" sha384-0fdwu/teqmsqlrhcchoh10pkp1ka1j15dfyuovb3lfet2540/2g6ygsi2bl14p "Crossoorigin =" Anomimo "
