How to make 100 000 in gta 5 online

There's a mission in Grand Theft Auto Online that can make you as much as $ 100,000 in-game dollars in an hour, legitimately. We'll share the details on how to actually make that much and get yourself some hard earned moolah in short order below. The mission in question is Coveted, and you will have to be at Level 36 to access it. There are other 1-* missions you can find that are short and pay well, so if you would rather do one of those, just adapt the rules we share here and wash, rinse, repeat. Here's how you access the mission: From the Start Menu, choose Online 1. Choose Jobs 2. Choose Host Job 3. Choose Missions 4. Choose Coveted. Coincidentally, you can use the Online pause screen to quick travel in the map. Host a job near where you want to go and quit before you start. You will simply be transported to that location, no jobs required. Coveted can be done alone and will take you 2 to 3 minutes. You go to a checkpoint, wait for a cargobob, get and deliver a shipping container. You can avoid most enemies by sticking to the right side of the hill on the way down to the farther SUV. If you screw it up, don't quick restart, as some players have been encountering freezing issues. Once you complete your mission you will get your payout of $ 12,000. You can simply restart the mission from there by hitting square for Playstation, X for Xbox, in the rewards lobby. Here's our comprehensive GTA Online money guide, breaking down the best ways you can get rich fast in Rockstar Games' popular title. However, if you're behind the curve and still stealing cars to sell to Los Santos Customs, robbing convenience stores for a few hundred dollars each time, and want to avoid buying Shark Cards, we might have a few helpful hints to give you a leg up. Whether you're based in Los Santos or right the way up in Paleto Bay, there's something for you to get involved in that will see you make much more cash. So, with that, let's take a look at all of your options. High-value missions will bag the biggest amounts but also cost quite a lot. Time Trials – $50,000 per week We'll start with an efficient, yet, not overly rewarding method – Time Trials. These are weekly against the clock races that can net you a pretty penny if you can master the right route and get below the par score. Read More: How to get gold bars in GTA Online's Cayo Perico Heist As these are weekly races, there aren't as replayable for big money as some of the other methods, so you're better off just picking up an almost free $50,000 from each trial and moving on elsewhere. It's a good starting point, though, and will help you begin to afford some of the other jobs – especially if you're just getting to grips with Los Santos. TIP: Watch out for the weekly GTA Online updates as Rockstar Games usually includes some boosted payouts for Time Trial missions. Sometimes they're double and treble, so it's worth keeping an eye out. The weekly Time Trials will have you race against the clock. Heists – $400,000 per hour depending on difficulty Heists are the biggest money spinners in GTA Online, but can take time and effort to complete in an efficient manner. Specifically, the Diamond Casino heist and recently released Cayo Perico heist. For example, the Diamond Casino heist requires serious money to take on the job, but doing the set-up missions will score you a few thousand dollars a pop. Once you've located the contents, though, you can figure out what your max take is. Cash has a max payout of $2,115,000, Artwork is $2,350,000, Gold is a slight step up at $2,585,000 but if you find Diamonds, you can claim a maximum of $3,619,000. This makes it an extremely lucrative way to earn money. Rockstar GamesThe Cayo Perico heist is extremely lucrative, but you will need to have some serious backing. Motorcycle Club missions – $100,000 per hour If you're inspired by Sons of Anarchy, you can even start your own Biker Gang in GTA Online. These Motorcycle clubs can earn you money from passive tasks like gun running or drug smuggling, but they take time and plenty of cash to reach their full potential. Plus, you'll have to spend at least $200,000 on a base for your club. Read More: How to claim GTA Online Twitch Prime Gaming rewards Nevertheless, if you own an MC, there are easy ways to make money where you'll get your hands dirty. Using the club missions inside the setup room, you can earn between $10-20k per mission depending on which one you choose. These can be a pain to complete in a public session, but if you and few friends just want a bit of peace and quiet, hop into a private session and get to work. You can rack up around $100,000 an hour per player. Depending on the missions that you choose, this is probably one of the least grindy ways to earn your payslip. Motorcycle Club missions can be extremely profitable. VIP Work – $100,000 to $150,000 per hour Now, if you're already a high-roller in GTA Online and own a business, you can use these to add to your already huge amounts of cash. Though, if you're new to Los Santos, try and find someone to buddy up with that is willing to help you up. The VIP Work – which is similar to the Motorcycle Club missions – can net you between $100,000 and $150,00 per hour depending on the mission type you select and how efficient you can bounce from task to task. Three of the best choices are Hostile Takeover, Headhunter, and Sightseer. You'll also get regular cash drops for keeping your CEO alive. Again, this can all be done in private lobbies if you don't want to test your skills against players who might have vehicles like the MKII Oppressor, so the cash will pile up before you know it. Rockstar GamesCompleting VIP work will get you some serious money on GTA Online. Take a punt at the GTA Casino The Diamond Casino has given players a much different way of earning – and let's face it, losing – money in Grand Theft Auto 5. However, there's certainly money to be made. There's a wide selection of different games, including roulette, blackjack, slot machines, and others. One of the best ways to earn money in the casino, however, is definitely Inside Track horse racing. Read More: How to get more chips in GTA Online You can either take a look at our comprehensive Inside Track guide for horse racing tips, or simply take a punt on any of those included in the online or offline lists. Simply approach one of the stations, select the horse based on the odds and hopefully pick up plenty of chips in return – which can be transferred back into dollars by the cashier. There are two Inside Track modes to play. Main event (online) and Single event (offline). While you're waiting for missions to cool down and restart again, this could be a perfect task to fill up some time and who knows, maybe double or treble your takings from the last heist you completed. It's all a gamble. Take part in double money events Rockstar GamesGTA 5's double money events update weekly, giving you numerous ways to earn that next juicy wad of cash. This tip may seem a simple one, but you'll be able to increase the amount of cash you earn in a matter of minutes. These events range from scrappy fights in Motor Wars to the sneaky Smuggler Sell Missions. Not only will these events net you some decent money, they'll also give you a chance to flex your skills against other players. Whether you fancy yourself a speed demon or an eagle-eyed marksman, Rockstar always has events that you'll be able to excel in. Make sure you check Rockstar's GTA 5 Social Club to see all the current missions on offer. If you don't find any events that catch your eye, then simply wait for the weekly refresh. So, go jump into a game and avoid the gunfire of other players – there is plenty of cash to be claimed! If you have any hints or tips of your own, feel free to send them in! By the way, the maximum amount of money you can earn in GTA V for each character is $2,147,483,647.00 - explanation. Armored Car Robberies When you see a blue dot on the map it means there is an armored car. If it's parked and there is someone with a briefcase walking towards it, shoot that person and you'll get GTA$ 3,000 - 8,000 easy. Otherwise steal the armored car and break open the back doors (an easy way of doing this is to just drive it into the water). You can also simply plant sticky bombs to the back of the car to blow it open, but take care - this will automatically saddle you with 3 wanted stars. Armored cars spawn in fixed locations, and there is a cluster of five spawn locations close to one another in down town Los Santos centered around Little Seoul and La Puerta. There is another near Cypress Flats, one in Vinewood, and another in Paleto Bay. You can refer to this map for exact locations. ATM Robberies If you hang around ATMs and wait for people to withdraw cash before robbing them, they are much more likely to yield a decent chunk of change for your trouble. Typically, NPCs carry GTA$ 10-20 on them, however right after accessing an ATM that number increases to GTA$ 30-120. Note that the AI has been programmed in a way that NPCs will note your presence if you act suspiciously, and leave the ATM. In this case, the regular low yield will apply. The best tactic is to incapacitate the NPC with a non-lethal weapon before robbing them for best results. The number of NPCs accessing ATMs is seemingly random, but in reality, the rate is just different at each ATM. Easy $100,000 Mission This mission has an equal chance of triggering for all three protagonists. Anyway, when you're playing (particularly as Franklin and free roaming around his house) a blue marker might pop up near Little Bighorn Avenue, which is located in the South-eastern part of the city in the Rancho district. If it does, investigate what's going because it might be a kid called Gray Nicholson telling you his bike got stolen. If it is, then get it back for him, because later he'll text you saying he is a millionaire, and give $100,000! Infinite Store Robberies Here's a way to keep robbing Ammu-nation stores. It works because the money in Ammu-nation cash registers respawns very quickly! Head to any store that is open. Shoot the clerk from doorway with a silenced gun to avoid detection. Empty the cash registers, which can be opened with a melee attack or with a gun (again, silenced). Exit the store and walk about three car lengths away (you'll get to know the correct distance if you keep doing this...). Turn around and re-enter store - you'll find that the money has re-spawned! Grab the cash, exit and repeat. Infinite Money #1 Note: this has been patched and the character switching method will now only work if you have an un-patched copy of the game. However, if instead of switching characters you quick save and then reload your game the briefcase will re-spawn. You need to either swim or ideally drive a boat to the location shown in the map below in Paleto Bay, and then dive into the ocean and head to the very bottom. You should see a sunken plane and to the right of it there will be a treasure box with $12,000 in it. Once you've got the box the first time, switch characters and then change back again to your original character. The box should have respawned! If it hasn't try swimming further away and then doing the character switch back and forth. Repeat this as many times as you like. Infinite Money #2 Note: this has been patched and the character switching method will now only work if you have an un-patched copy of the game. However, if instead of switching characters you quick save and then reload your game the briefcase will re-spawn. This infinite money hint operates on the same principles as the tip above except that the box contains $20,000! The exact location of the briefcase can be seen on the image below. It is located at the Tataviam Mountains in a sunken ship. Infinite Money #3 Note: this has been patched and the character switching method will now only work if you have an un-patched copy of the game. However, if instead of switching characters you quick save and then reload your game the briefcase will re-spawn. This infinite money hint operates on the same principles as the tip above except that the box contains $25,000! There is also an MG SMG Rifle located among the wreckage. The best way to find it is follow the long pole till you come to the end of it and on a slab that the wreckage is standing on you will find the gun. There is also an Armor vest which is located near some rocks near the wreckage (face the wreckage with the briefcase on your left side and you are facing the hull door, then on your right hand side is where the vest is located). Also Grenades are located right next to the wreckage (go to the side where the money is and go straight down and the grenade will be right there). I would not recommend trying to find the MG Rifle in the dark it is almost impossible best to wait till daytime to try and find it. Infinite Money #4 Note: this has been patched and the character switching method will now only work if you have an un-patched copy of the game. However, if instead of switching characters you quick save and then reload your game the briefcase will re-spawn. This infinite money hint operates on the same principles as the tips above. The briefcase only contains $9,000 however there are several weapons hidden about in this section such as an UZI, Pump Action Shotgun, Sticky Bombs, Grenades Sniper Rifle & Carbine Assault Rifle. It will take at least 15 minutes to find all of them though. I would not recommend trying to find these in the dark as you will lose your bearings and miss some. Save Sonny's Daughter - $60K This explains how to do a "random encounter" in which you'll receive $60,000. Head to the northern part of Paleto Bay along the dirt road (as shown in the map below) and you should find a random encounter where two guys were getting ready to kill a girl (the girl is actually mob boss "Sonny's" daughter). Kill the guys and take the girl to where she wants to go (Vinewood). Then later you'll get a call from her and $60,000 wired to your account. Assassinations Assassinations are missions given by Lester that let you affect the stock market, thus making significantly greater profits than with just about any other activity. To get the most out of assassinations, it is advisable to complete these missions after you finish the main storyline and use the income from The Big Score to buy up as much stock as you can, then selling it all after the assassination is complete to make a ton of money. The Hotel Assassination is the only one of these required to progress in the story, so for maximum profits you ought to skip all the others until you finished the main storyline. Track Loot And Collectibles With Chop If you take Chop, Franklin's dog which he gets from Lamar, on walks, he will sniff out loot and other collectibles like spaceship parts and the like. Using him to detect these items can make searching a whole lot easier. Bust The Marijuana Farm This event is only accessible by Trevor, on Thursdays, during Daytime. If you travel down a small dead-end path on the eastern face of Mount Chiliad, you'll happen upon a small drug storehouse where some crooks are growing weed. If you take out all the armed guards in a short shootout, you can loot the building for instant cash rewards of varying amounts, with the minimum amount being GTA$ 60,000 but usually going above. The best thing is that this location respawns, so you can come back every now and then to shoot the goons and loot the goods all over again.
